On Friday, February 20, 1914, at 12 o'clock noon, J. F. Morgan & Company, Auctioneers, will sell at public auction at our Salesrooms, in rear of the Alexander Young Building, a choice lot of upward of fifteen re-built automobiles.

These automobiles will be sold without a limit; they must be closed out to make room for new stock arriving.

JUDGE COOPER STILL DENIES RESIGNATION AND LUKA STORIES

Despite Circuit Judge Henry E. Cooper's denial the rumor persistently comes from Washington that he has resigned. The latest Washington correspondence says:

"In view of the fact that Judge Cooper resigned and fixed a specific date for leaving the bench his name was given no consideration for reappointment."

ment. The judge left the service because he desires to develop the new group of islands recently acquired by him south of Hawaii.

"The situation is no different today than it was when I returned from the mainland," said Judge Cooper today when again asked concerning the story from the East. "I sought only an extension of leave of absence. Nothing was said then, nor since, concerning my resignation. I certainly have not resigned."

The absence of Judge Cooper's name from the list of recommendations for judicial appointments, sent forward by Governor Pinkham some time ago, has caused some speculation locally. His was not the only name of judges now serving that was left off the list, however, and the governor has caused it to be understood that the omissions were due to lack of time in which to consider all of them at once. It also is believed that no further recommendations will be sent forward until the president and senate have taken some action on those already made by Governor Pinkham.

Incidentally Judge Cooper took occasion this morning to again deny the rumor that his schooner, the Luka, is to recruit labor at Tahiti for the copra trade at Palmyra Islands. He says he expects to send some Tahitians to colonize the group, but they have been chosen from among the members of that race who already are located at Honolulu. The Luka is undergoing a general overhauling at the marine railway; new bowsprit, jib boom and head rigging are being installed, and the vessel will not be ready to sail before the last of the present month.

OFFICERS' TIME ON OAHU MAY BE EXTENDED

There is still some uncertainty as to the length of the tour of duty for army officers in Hawaii. A few weeks ago it was announced that four years was the time set, but now, it seems, there is talk of making it even longer. While this would be a boost for Hawaii as a health resort, it is doubtful whether officers could care to be so long separated from mainland ties, and a longer tour might tend to make the station most unpopular.

The Army and Navy Journal of recent date says:

Owing to the fact that the war department has not yet localized the regiment stationed in Hawaii no foreign service roster for Hawaii has been prepared. The department has decided to fix the tour of duties in Hawaii at four years at the present, but even this may be changed when final action is taken on the status of the Hawaiian regiments. It will be two years before any of the Hawaiian regiments are due under the old schedule to return to the United States, and for this reason it is not necessary for the department to pass on the question until shortly before a regiment would come under the old arrangement. In the meantime the tour of four years will be required in Hawaii for staff officers and the coast artillery. On account of the delightfulness of the climate it is not believed that Hawaii should be on the same basis as the Philippines. Even at four years a tour of duty in Hawaii is to be preferred to that in the Philippine Islands. It is contended by some members of the general staff that the tour of duty in Hawaii should be extended beyond four years, as a great many officers would prefer to live in Hawaii rather than in some parts of the United States.

Morning on 'CHANGE

The only new price established this morning was in Pioneer which showed a gain of a half point. There was one sale of that stock, involving a block of 25 shares—it was the only deal made at the session—selling at 18. Between boards Oahu Sugar, Hawaiian Commercial and Hilo Com. all sold at their old prices. Thirty shares of Oahu Sugar went at 13.50; 65 Hawaiian Commercial at 23.50 and 15 Hilo Com. at 3.25.

MRS. JOHN W. KALUA OF WAILUKU LAID AT REST LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. John W. Kalua passed away at the Malulu hospital on Friday as a result of the stroke she suffered on Thursday morning. The obsequies were held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. From the house the flower-laden casket was taken to the Kaahumanu church, which was already half-filled with mourners when the large funeral cortege arrived, and many people had to remain outside. A more beautiful and imposing funeral has seldom been seen on Maui. The police and part of Company I headed the procession. People came from all parts of Maui, and even from Honolulu, among whom was W. O. Smith, an old and faithful friend of the Kaluas.

The pall bearers were S. E. Kalama, Charles Wilcox, W. F. Kane, J. H. Kune, Ben Lyons, Joseph Welch, Joseph Cockett and M. P. Waiwaile. Wailuku Weekly Times.

On statutory grounds John F. Butler yesterday was granted a divorce from Mary P. Butler by Circuit Judge Whitney.
